

COACHING AGREEMENT

This agreement is between:

The Client Name: _____

The Coach Name: Tamara Al-Halaseh EverJOURNEY

I, The Client, fully understand that:

- The results of the coaching sessions are solely dependent upon me following the instructions and tasking that the Coach provides me during any and all of the coaching process; and that the onus is entirely upon me on completing whatever tasks the Coach provides me to complete/conduct. These tasks will be aimed at me achieving my goals and desired outcomes. The responsibility for obtaining the results I desire & defined (as per the main outcomes in this agreement) from the coaching is solely mine.
- I understand that the Coach is a Life Coach & a practitioner of Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP).
- The Coach is a member of the Association of NLP (ANLP) and adheres to their Code of Conduct and Code of Ethics.
- I agree to allow the Coach to guide me through any processes relevant to me achieving the goals I have set within the boundaries of the ANLP Code of Ethics and ANLP Code of Conduct.
- The Coach commits to keep the content of the coaching sessions confidential, unless the Law requires disclosure of the contents, or unless the Coach believes that by not doing so, could endanger me or other people, or unless he receives my written permission to disclose certain information.
- The results of the coaching sessions are dependent on me focusing on what I want rather than what I don't want.
- I agree to tell the Coach all relevant information that will assist me in achieving my goals and overcoming any issues/blocks to my success.
- I acknowledge that I am psychologically sound and know of no reason (medical, psychological or otherwise) why I should not undertake coaching
- I am not taking any prescribed medication that could adversely impact on the coaching process, nor am I seeing a counsellor or therapist. I agree that I will inform the Coach if this changes during the coaching relationship.
- I will give the Coach at least 72 hours' notice of cancellation, otherwise I will pay for the session cancelled. I understand that the Coach will provide me a free session if he does not give me 72 hours' notice of cancellation. (Genuine medical emergencies excepted for either party)

On this basis I agree to commit to working with my Coach at the advertised & agreed upon hourly rate per session inclusive of Tax/VAT (paid for/by my employers) to achieve my outcomes. The main outcomes will be defined on the coaching questionnaire and sent to info@ever-journey.com at least 48 hours prior to the coaching session and as agreed as follows.

By accepting a coaching session (NLP, One-on-one Personal Life Coaching or Executive Business Coaching Session) you are bound by the terms and conditions outlined in this agreement.

The coach reserves the right to change the terms and conditions with or without prior notice to the coachee.
